Living room

Three air-conditioned bedrooms with mosquito nets: 1 master bedroom (double bed 160x200) with en-suite bathroom (WC, shower), 1 double bedroom (double bed 160x200), 1 children's room (1 bunk bed and 1 trundle bed)

A second bathroom (WC, shower).

Please note that Villa Morne d'Orange is a traditional wooden villa with natural ventilation through louvers allowing the trade winds to pass (no glass windows, only shutters).

Nature enthusiasts will have plenty of options to organize various hikes, such as the Prêcheur to Grand Rivière excursion, the stroll to Cascade Coulevre, walking along the Beauregard Canal, exploring the cliffs of Falaise, and Mount Pelée.

Numerous stunning beaches are worth a visit for an afternoon of relaxation: Anse Coulevre, Anse Turin located between Le Carbet and Saint-Pierre, as well as the beaches of Guingette, Fond Corré, and La Paillotte in Saint-Pierre. La Paillotte beach is also the starting point for maritime shuttles to Dominica and Guadeloupe.

Diving enthusiasts will have the opportunity to explore breathtaking underwater landscapes and discover numerous shipwrecks. Several diving clubs on the waterfront of Saint-Pierre offer outings and excursions.

Take the time to stroll through the streets of Saint-Pierre to discover the remnants of the old city destroyed during the eruption of Mount Pelée in 1902. Then, head to the covered market to buy local fruits and vegetables, or cross the road to visit the Alsace restaurant in Kay - the only Alsatian establishment on the island! Two other addresses to remember are Kai Raymond's for fresh fruit juice and Le Fromager for enjoying a Creole meal while admiring the sea view.
